SWIMMING FOR TRANS- AND INTER PEOPLE AND FRIENDS

The open swimming hour specifically addresses all trans and inter people who like to swim and enjoy leisure time without the common obstacles in public swimming areas. Also all people who tend to avoid public swimming areas because of body shaming, e.g. scars or body shape are welcome at the swimming.

The pool area as well as the changing rooms will be opened exclusively for trans and inter people and their friends. All areas will be void of gendered markers and body-related rules. Thus, everyone is welcome to participate regardless of their (current) body shape or preferred swimming clothes.

All participating persons agree to a non-staring, non-commenting policy concerning bodies or clothing matters. This environment is all about feeling safe, respecting each other's boundaries, and minding one's own respectful behaviour.

Deep water pool! The ability to swim is mandatory.

WHAT DOES TRANS MEAN?

The term "trans" describes all people that do not or just sometimes identify with their assigned gender at birth. For example, transgender people, transsexual people, genderqueer and non-binary people as well as cross-dressers and so-called transvestites are included. Thus, people who identify as trans have very different experiences, backgrounds, and body expressions.

WHAT DOES INTER MEAN?

The term "inter" describes the experience to have been born with a body that does not adhere to or show the binary makeup of male/man or female/woman. This regularly leads to discrimination and human rights violations, for example non-consensual gender altering surgeries. "Inter" is not a third gender because the realities of people born with a variation of gendered markers are diverse. Importantly, inter people can, like all other people, have a female, male, trans or non-binary gender identity.

WHAT DOES "FRIENDS" MEAN?

Friends are all people who tend to avoid public swimming areas because of body shaming, e. g. scars or body shape. Friends are also cis-gendered people who are specifically invited to the event by their trans or/ and inter peers.

5 pm

Location: Hafenzimmer-Salon für Kunst und Kultur / Gotmarstr. 10

How do you convert your theoretical knowledge of feminist theories into artistic expression?

During the workshop we want to explore a creative way of expressing our feminist knowledge. Artists like Hannah Höch, Emy Ball or the Guerilla Girls have used the art of collage and billboards to fight against patriarchal and racist systems. Their humorous and intelligent approaches are the main inspiration for this workshop.

We will provide materials for you to use to create your own feminist artistic work like postcards, Flyers Stickers etc. we will also have artist catalogues by artists for you to look at and get inspired by. If you want to bring something that you want to work with (a special material, a magazine, a book) you are more than welcome to do so. We also have a black & white printer and scanner to use.

With this workshop we hope to convey a relaxed atmosphere and empowering moments for all participants.

The workshop is on donation basis. The recommended donation sum is 10 Euro.
